NOTICE OF SOCIAL SERVICES LAW 424-a PROCEDURES

To determine if indicated report of child abuse or mistreatment is on file with the State Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment.

Please read this carefully. It may impact your continued employment with Allegany Arc.

Section 424-a of the New York State Social Services Law enables the Allegany Arc, as a provider of services for children in facilities operated or certified by the Office for People with Developmental Disabilities (OPWDD), to inquire whether an employee or volunteer is the subject of an indicated report of child abuse or maltreatment on file with the State Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment (Department of Social Services).

In addition, this same section of the law requires that all employees be notified that if you have the potential for regular and substantial contact with children, you will be requested to complete a form specifically designed for making such an inquiry. Allegany Arc will then submit the form to the State Central Register to begin the inquiry process. The State Central Register will notify you if the result of an inquiry shows that you are the subject of an indicated report of child abuse or maltreatment. Allegany Arc will not be notified until the applicant has been contacted.

If the State Central Register replies to our inquiry that you are the subject of an indicated report of child abuse or maltreatment, we must consider that factor, along with other background information, in determining whether to retain you as an employee, to retain you in another employment capacity, or to retain you in your current position. You will receive instructions from the State Central Registry to appeal any finding they notified you of. If you follow the appeal process, your determination might be reversed and Allegany Arc will be notified you are clear for employment. If you choose not to appeal the decision by the State Central Register, it will be determined that you do not wish to continue your employment with Allegany Arc.

If your employment is terminated, and such termination is based, in whole or in part on the existence of an indicated report of child abuse or maltreatment, you will be informed of this decision in writing.

All information obtained through this process is confidential.
